

CRD Joint Corporate Occupational
Health and Safety Committee

SAFETY BULLETIN

SUBJECT: CRD Joint Corporate OH& Safety Committee Wins BC Award

To: All CRD/CRHC OH& Safety Bulletin Boards

From: Bill Eccleston
Director, Human Resources

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'W. Eccleston', is written over a horizontal line.

Date: September 23, 2004

We are pleased to announce that The Capital Regional District Joint Corporate OH & Safety Committee has been selected by the BC/Yukon Region of the Canadian Society of Safety Engineering for the BC Achievement Recognition Awards as a group of 1-50 employees.

The Canadian Society of Safety Engineering (CSSE) is a non-profit organization of safety practitioners. Their objective is to promote the arts and sciences of loss prevention for the conservation of people, equipment, material and the environment, and to encourage the pursuit of excellence in the profession.

Since 1989, the CSSE Chapters in BC have recognized outstanding achievement by both individuals and organizations through the annual Achievement Recognition Awards program. Each year, after nominations are received, an awards committee selects the winners.

Over the last eight years the Joint Corporate Safety Committee has had a significant impact on the occupational health and safety program at the CRD. The Joint Corporate Safety Committee has succeeded in making a momentous contribution in the workplace including its part in winning the 2003 NAOSH Award.

The Joint Corporate Safety Committee has driven safety programming and raised the profile of a healthy and safe work environment at the CRD. Obtaining this prestigious award is yet another indication of the CRD's success in safety.

Cc: Department Heads
Co-Chairs, Department Safety Committees

“SAFETY IS EVERYONE’S BUSINESS”